If you want copies of the deeds involved in these transactions (e.g. the will of Ichabod Richmond might give some valuable family information) you should write to the Registrar of Deeds, Colborne, Ontario, quoting the deed number with the other relevant information.

I am including some documents from our papers which might be of interest.

There was also information on an Elizabeth Darling formerly Birdsall and a Lt. Henry Darling who petitioned for grants in 1795 and 1793 respectively, but since I did not know if these were relatives, I have not included it.

to write. It will be eight hundred years in Oct., 1866, since our predecessor from Brittany landed in Pevensey Bay, England, an officer in King William's army. On the fourteenth of October was fought the great battle of Hastings, in which a Saxon king, Harold and half his army were killed, and England was subjected to the king. Our ancestor settled on land in Yorkshire given him by the King, etc. At a subsequent period a younger branch of this family settled in Wiltshire, England, where traces of them for many generations are still found in cemeteries and parish records. John Richmond was born at the Manor of Ashton-Keynes, and came to America with his sons, John and Edward, etc.

ENGLISH ANCESTORS.

1040-1594.

1. Roaldus Masard de Richmond, one of the most powerful leaders who accompanied William the Conqueror to England. (Thackeray's Genealogy. Plantagenets--Harrison gives Fulco de Richmond as the grandfather and Robert as the father of Roaldus 'le Emase').

2. Hasculfus Masard de Richmond held in Demesne Kiddington and Chilworth, Oxfordshire, Stainbury, Gloucestershire, and other lordships at the time of the general survey (Dugdale).

3. Roaldus de Richmond, 'le Emase' m. Graciana buried at Ste. Agathas. Second Constable of Richmond Castle under Alan III, Earl of Richmond, seized of lands in Skeaby and Croft by the gift of King Henry, who likewise gave him the manor of Pickhall, etc., which he gave in marriage with his daughter to Johanus de Neville. He was lord of Burton, Aldborough and most of his uncle Robert's lands (the first Constable of Richmond) by grant of King Stephen. He founded an abbey on his manor of Easby in honour of Ste. Agatha, 1153 where he was buried. (Sir Harris Nicholas, Siege of Carlaveroc, p. 374)

Dear Mr. Darling:

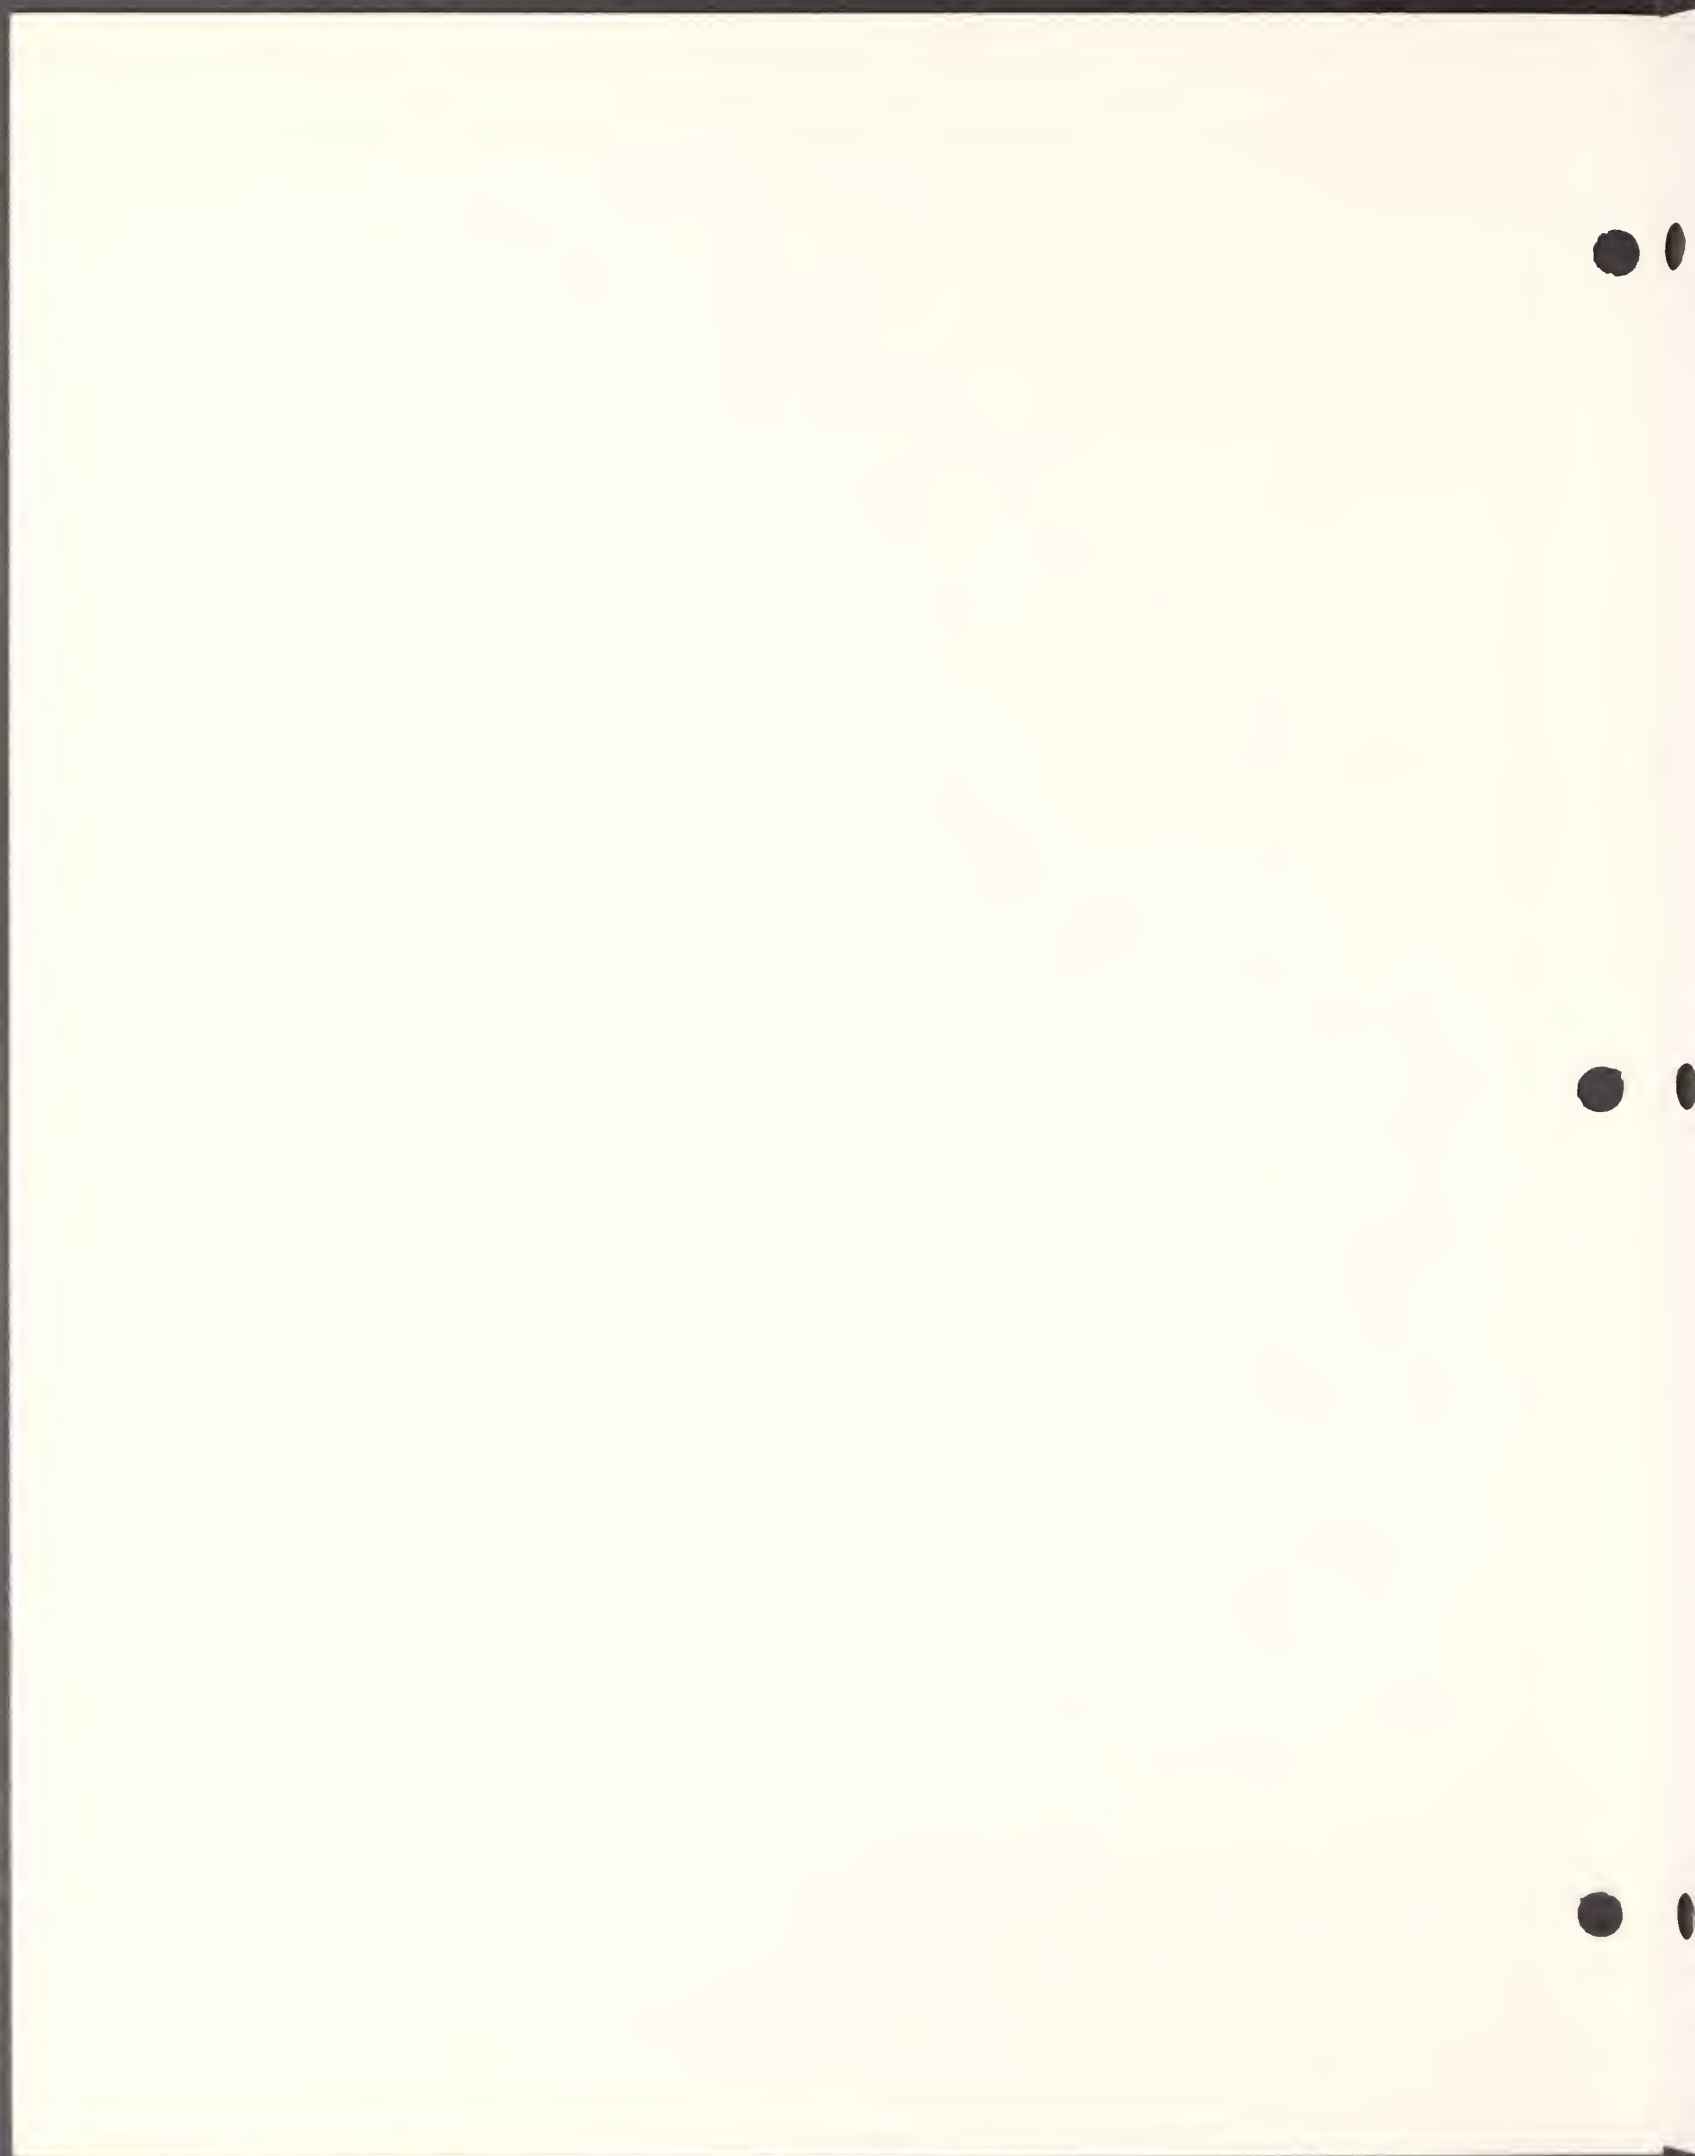

Your family tradition was really quite accurate. When I searched our records again without reference to the petition date you gave me before, I did come up with a location quite close to the Bay of Quinte area.

In lists sent in to the Council in June and September 1797 by Asa Danforth and Aaron Greeley naming the settlers in Northumberland County, John Darling appears on Lot 24, concession 1, Haldimand Township. He received a patent to this lot 25 November 1802 and sold the north half to Frederick Perring on 3 July 1804 and the south half to David McGregor Rogers on 1 August 1804. Of course, he had probably lived on the land several years when his name appeared on the 1797 list.

I could not find the Duell(1) name in our indexes up to 1798 but if the Duells came among the very early Loyalists they would receive land from the Land Board without the need to petition for it. The Richmonds, however, were very close neighbours to John Darling. Ichabod lived on Lot 23 and the Broken Front, Concession 2, Haldimand Twp. and Cyrus and Sylvester lived on Concession 4, Lots 4 and 5, Cramahe Tp. according to the lists sent in by Asa Danforth and Aaron Greeley mentioned above. Cramahe was later divided and the record of these lands is now listed in Brighton Township.

Ichabod never got a patent to the land in Haldimand, the patent being given to David McGregor Rogers on 18 August 1804, so presumably Ichabod sold his rights (perhaps early August at the same time that John Darling sold to Rogers?). The history of the other lot is shown below:

Dear Dr. Burleigh:

Pardon me if my address seems to be somewhat perfunctory on the envelope. While I have been in correspondence with Mrs. Kirk and Col. Thomson, as well as various other people, no one has given me your full name or whether you are M.D. D.D. or Ph.D. "Tommy" Thomson dropped me a short note earlier advising me of your address.

It seems that we may have a common ancestral family, the Richmonds.

Mrs. Beattie, Ontario archivist, has just informed me that my early ancestor in Canada had a land grant in Haldimand Township and was a rather close neighbour of the Richmonds, in fact he married Sylvester's daughter Phoebe. I'm enclosing a copy of Mrs. Beattie's letter for your information and trust you might find it interesting.

I would appreciate receiving any information you might be able to give me on the Richmond family.

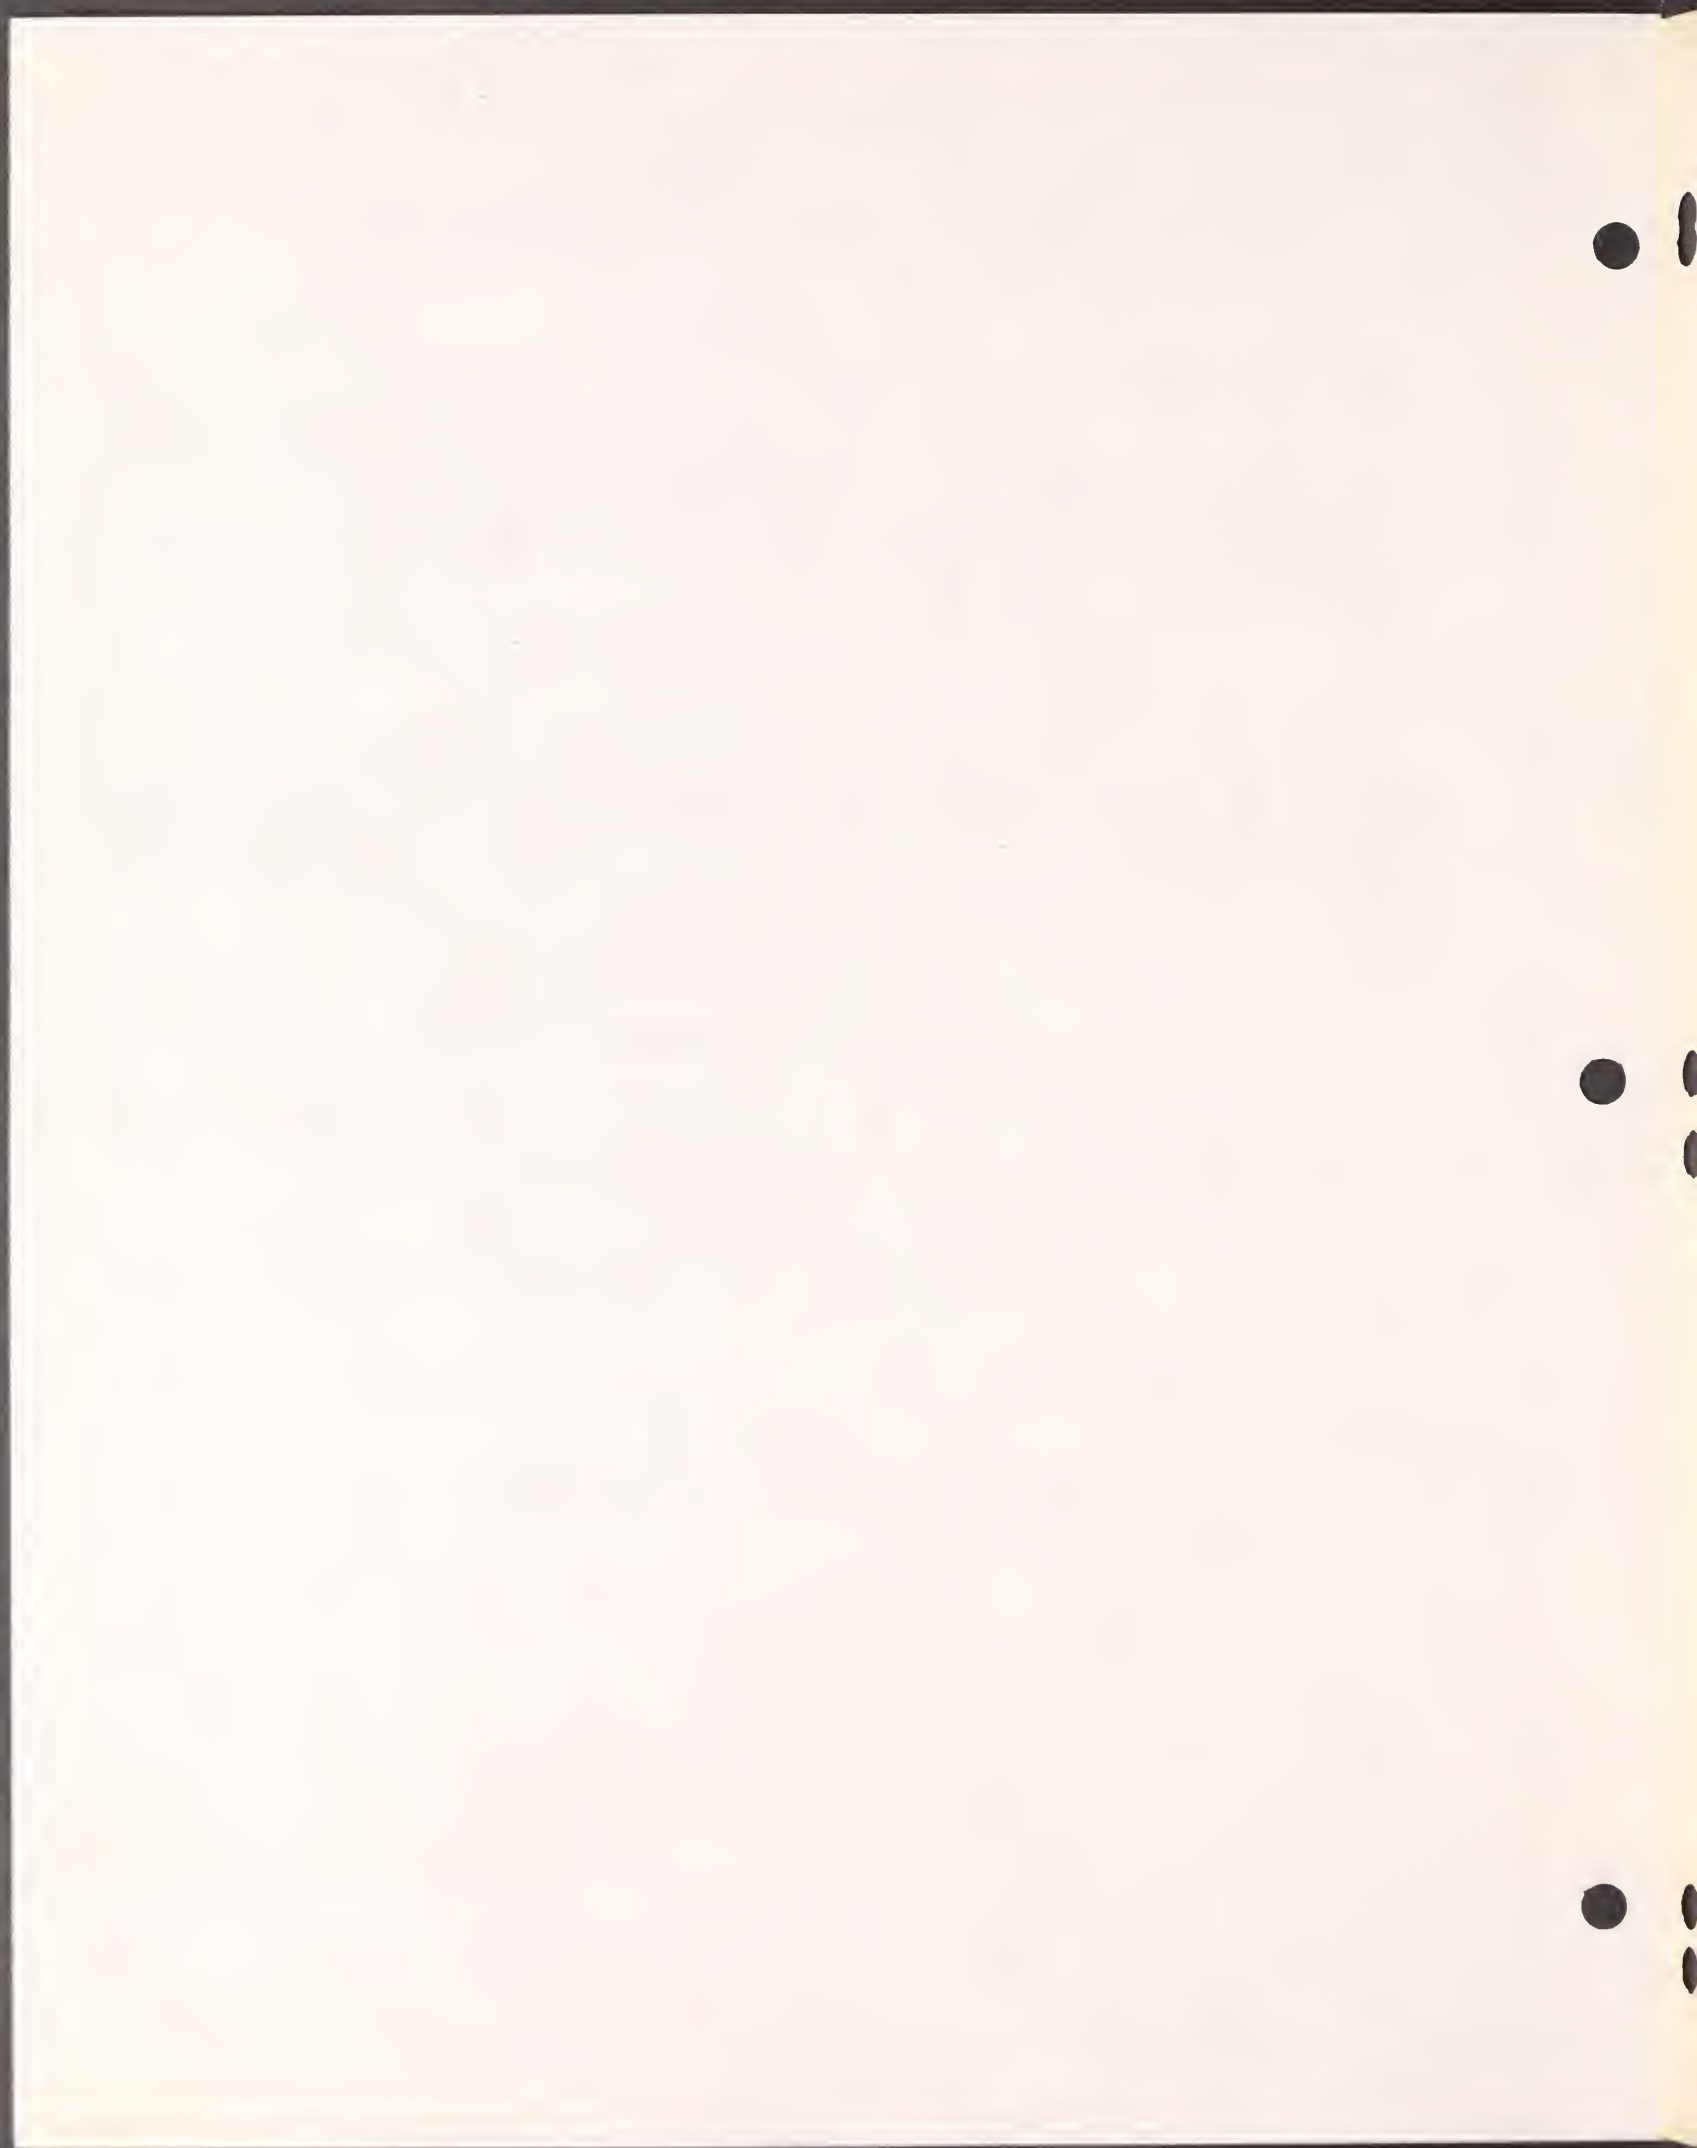

Thanking you for your kindness and co-operation, I remain

Yours very truly,

J. W. Darling.

Married four times.

JOHN RICHMOND, eldest son, an officer of distinction during the civil war.
(He is believed to be the JOHN RICHMOND who settled in America).

34 JOHN DAVIS (JOHN 1) was born about 1633 and probably before his father came to America. He married, first, ABIGAIL, daughter of ALFRED DAVIS, and second, Amy Bull, daughter of Governor Henry and Elizabeth Bull. He died Nov., 1686.

Children by his first wife

- 17 ABIGAIL 3 born 1656.
- 18 EDWARD 3 born 1658.
- 19 JOHN 3 born about 1660.
- 20 ELIZABETH 3 born Dec. 6, 1666.
- 21 MARY 3 born 1668.
- 22 SYLVESTER 3 born 1669.
- 23 SYLVESTER 3 born 1672, baptised at Little Compton, R. I., Nov. 3, 1700.
- 24 SARAH 3

Children by second wife

- 25 HENRY 3 born at Little Compton, R. I.
- 26 ALI 3 born at Little Compton, R. I.

The order of births is not known but it is believed that the above is very nearly, if not accurately correct.

He and his wife, Amy, joined in a deed Aug. 20, 1685.

He conveyed Feb. 16, 1691-2 to Henry Bull, his father-in-law and grandfather of my two youngest children certain land in trust for them and "my now wife Amy" referring in it to a deed to his son EDWARD made May 20, 1686.

The inventory of his estate was filed Dec. 8, 1696, and on the twentieth of the same month his estate was divided among EDWARD the eldest son; son JOHN, for himself and his sister, ABIGAIL RICHMOND; WILLIAM PALMER, JOHN PALMER, SYLVESTER RICHMOND, SARAH RICHMOND and THOMAS BURGESS (The two Palmers and Burdages (Burgess) were husbands of his daughters).

The executors of Henry Bull (who died Jan. 22, 1693-4), settled an account Mar. 2, 1709, in which they reported payment of Henry and Ann Richmond's legacy of 60 lb. On May 20, 1657, ABIGAIL DAVIS petitioned the Assembly, alleging that her step-father, John Cowdall and her mother had forced her into a marriage with Richard Ussell, and later in the same year the Assembly declared that the marriage was unlawful and that she was free to marry EDWARD RICHMOND, whom she declared in her petition to be her choice (see Col. Records, Vol. I P. 359).

When old Portsmouth was divided and Newport organised, Portsmouth was reorganised and JAMES DAVIS (DAVIS) signed (by his mark) April 30, 1639, forming "the body politick" of Portsmouth; and in the list of the inhabitants of Aquednic Island (who had become such by consent of the government) dated Sept. 1, 1640, JAMES DAVIS' name appears; it does not appear again, and as there was no other of the same name (save, possibly Nicholas, who lived until 1671) it would seem that he was the father of ABIGAIL DAVIS, and at the time ABIGAIL married EDWARD RICHMOND, he had died and his widow had married John Cowdall.

EDWARD RICHMOND 2 is frequently mentioned in the Colonial Records under the following dates:-

- 1661, Sept. 9-He had a share in Misquanicut (Westerly) lands appointed to him.
- 1663, Dec. 14-He had a legacy of forty acres, and wearing a parel, from the will of his father, JOHN RICHMOND of Taunton.
- 1667-69-70-72 General Solicitor.
- 1676, Aug. 6-

JOHN RICHMOND, the first American ancestor, ~~was born about 1599 in Ashton-Keynes, Wiltshire, England.~~ He was a man of affairs and ample means when he came to the new world in 1635, and settled in Taunton, Mass., of which place he was one of the founders. He became a large land-owner and acquired considerable wealth. In the original purchase of Taunton, 1637, he owned six shares. He was absent from Taunton a great deal of the time, being recorded in Newport and elsewhere in Rhode Island. It is known that he was in Rhode Island in 1655 and was a commissioner from Newport at the court of commissioners held at Portsmouth, R. I., in 1656.

?(In a manuscript of the Rev. Legh Richmond a tradition is recorded that the John Richmond of Ashton-Keynes, who shot his brother, Henry Richmond, came to America in 1635 and engaged in business. Joshua Bailey Richmond, in his work, 'The Richmond Family, 1598-1896, and Pre-American Ancestors, 1040-1594', refers to this tradition and says in connection with it that nothing is definitely known concerning the American John Richmond between the years 1643 and 1655. He thinks that this John Richmond may have been the John Richmond who came to Saco, Me., in 1635 and that he may have returned to England and engaged in the Civil War. He was called Colonel, which circumstance might also tend to identify him with the John Richmond of the Civil War.) ?

He died in Taunton, March 20, 1661.

He was married in England, although no record of his marriage has been found yet.

He was especially interested in many purchases of land from the Indians in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. RICHMOND.

INTRODUCTION.

THE PRE-AMERICAN RICHMONDS.

The Richmond family has its origin in Brittany, France. The name is derived from the French words riche and monte or mords, and is first given in early English history as Rychemonde later as Richemount and Richmonte; and finally as Richmond. The family name Richemonte may still be found in France.

It is extremely difficult to follow ancestral lines previous to the founding of the Herald's College by Richard III in 1482, so much is tradition engrafted on history.

The credit for tracing our English ancestors is mostly due to the nephew of the compiler, Henry I. Richmond, Jr, who has spent much time in this country and in England examining old wills and records to enable the Richmonds to "read their title clear" to ancestors who served by the side of William the Conqueror on Hastings Field.

The line of English ancestors given is also that of the Ashton-Keynes and other Wiltshire Richmonds: the former for five generations bore the alias of Webb, first assumed by William Richmond about 1430, when he married Alice, daughter and heiress of Thomas Webb of Draycott, Wilts., England.

Francis Thackeray, uncle of William Lakepeace Thackeray, who descended from the Richmonds of Wilts., compiled the records of the ancestors of the Ashton-Keynes Richmonds. These records correspond with our line with one exception. He claims that we descend through Roald, the son of Roaldus "le Ennase", while General Plantaganet-Harrison in his "History of Yorkshire" states that we descend from Alan, son of Roaldus "le Ennase", claiming that his son Roald had no children.

William Lakepeace Thackeray wrote of Colonel John Richmond-Webb (whose name may be found in the Gazetteer of the English Army): "He came of a very ancient Wiltshire family which he respected above all families in the world, he could prove lineal descent from King Edward I, and his first ancestor, Roaldus de Richmond, rode by William the Conqueror's side on Hastings field. 'We were gentlemen', Col. Webb used to say, 'when the Churchills were horse-boys'".

Roaldus de Richmond was granted lands by the Crown in Yorkshire, and tradition informs us that this Roaldus was a relative of Alar Rufus, but no positive proof of this statement has been found. Alan Rufus was a kinsman of the Conqueror, and was granted lands in Yorkshire. He built Richmond Castle and was the first Duke of Richmond.*

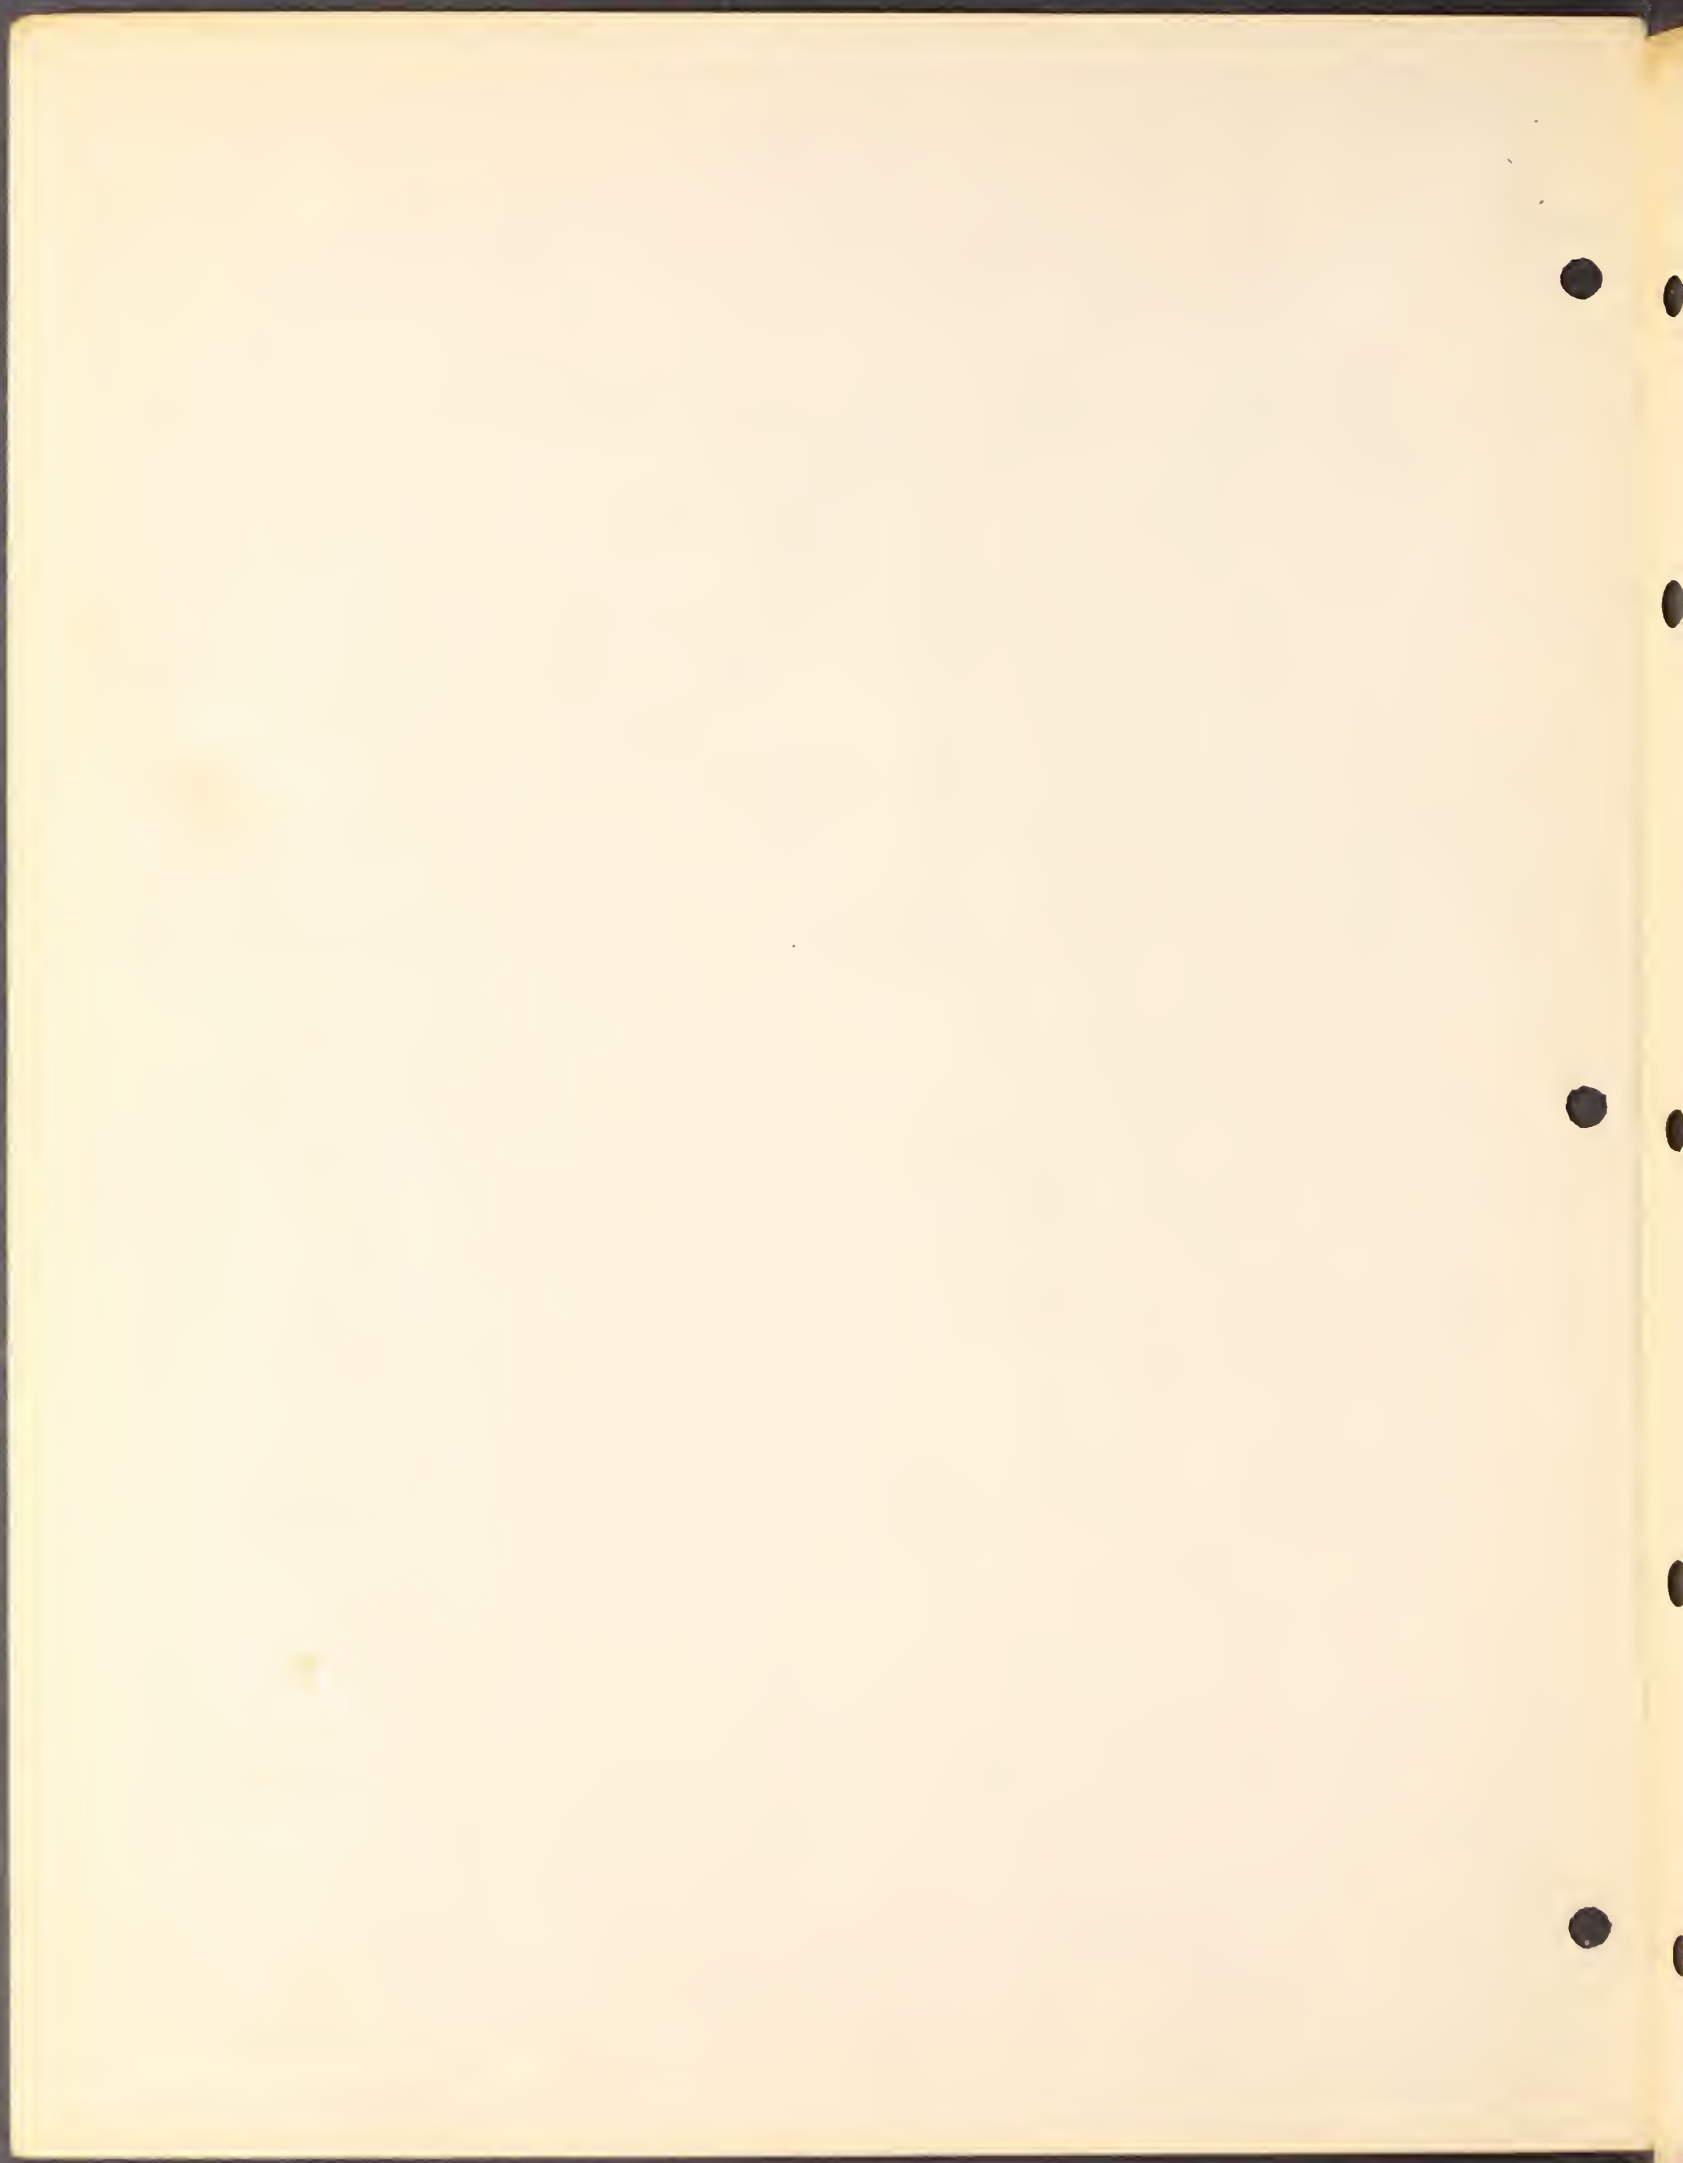

Tradition from many sources informs us that John Richmond was born at Ashton-Keynes. The Rev. J. C. ... and claims that he was allowed to take the old church records at Ashton-Keynes, Wilts. to his lodgings, and as a special favor, and asserts positively that he found the line of descent of John Richmond in 1577.

John Savage in his Genealogical Dictionary, states: "The first tradition brings his John from Ashton-Keynes, a parish of Wilts., four and one half miles west from Cricklade, where he was baptised in 1517. He died Mar. 20, 1604 aged 70; therefore his birth occurred in 1534."

The compiler cannot state positively whether Ashton-Keynes, Radbourne, or Christian Malford is the place of nativity of John Richmond, but it seems more than probable that he was born in the county of Wilts., and there is no doubt that the Wiltshire Richmonds descended from the Yorkshire Richmonds who came from Brittany with William the Conqueror.†

*The title and estate is now held by the Lemnox family. Our ancestors were Lords of the Manor and Constables of Richmond Castle, but no claims can be established to the Arms of the Duke of Richmond. The compiler cannot determine whether the ducal coronet in the Richmond Arms comes from our being a lineal descendant of King Edward I, as claimed by John Richmond-Webb, from kinship with Alan Rufus, the first Duke of Richmond, or from later marriage with some ducal family.

†The following extract from a letter of William E. Richmond to William R. Richmond, dated in Providence, Dec. 31, 1865, may be of interest, and show how traditions have been passed down in the family. "I have thought best to give you this much of the family history while I may, as life is uncertain and my hand is not often in condition

The statement in the Richmond Genealogy, by J. B. Richmond, that John (1) Richmond of Taunton, Mass., was b. in Ashton Keynes, Wiltshire, Eng., was merely a guess, and is without any foundation whatever in recorded fact. Mrs. Henry J. Richmond of Little Compton, R.I., has spent a number of years in Eng. in search for the birthplace and parentage of John (1) Richmond, without success. Mr. Richmond has published his English research in 3 vols., entitled "Richmond Family Records," the 3rd vol. being published in 1938.

However, several strains indicate that John (1) Richmond, emigrant to Taunton, may have been identical with a certain Lieut. John Richmond alias Shepherd or Shipward who was b. not long after 1591 in Bandon Bridge, co. Cork, Ireland, son of a Capt. Richard Richmond alias Shepherd or Shipward and his wife, Katherine Beecher, dau. of Phane Beecher, one of the founders of the English settlement at Bandon Bridge. Phane (or Vane) Beecher was the son of Alderman Henry Beecher of London, Eng. These Richmonds were descended from an old Somersetshire family which emigrated to Ireland about 1588, after the close of the great Desmond rebellion in Munster.

George Richmond of this family who made several trading voyages to Richmond Island, in Saco Bay, Maine, around 1637-8, was a brother of Capt. Richard Richmond above. For some account of these voyages, see "The Delawney Papers," in pub. of the Maine Hist. Society.

For more than thirty years I have been interested in the Loyalists who settled in the Kingston-Bay of Quinte area. I have been compiling information on each family, their origin, their period of service, their place of settlement in Ontario, their wives and their children. In the course of this interest I have found a number of whom there has been little or no record. In particular I have discovered a number of families not known locally as Loyalists who came from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, where they were admitted to be Loyalists. In all these cases I have made a particular point of obtaining definite information as to service in the Loyalist forces, or other evidence that they had supported the Royal Standard in some way.

My interest, as indicated above, has been aroused by your statement that Thomas Bowerman IV was a United Empire Loyalist. You state, on page 18, that "Finally, Thomas joined the British forces, probably when about 19 or about the time of the last active fighting at Saratoga." You further state on page 19 that "at the close of the war in 1783, Thomas Bowerman (IV), now 22 years of age, was a private in the King's Royal Regiment of New York."

Would it be possible for you to furnish some proof of the above statements, in order that I can add his name to the growing list of Loyalist settlers of the Bay of Quinte area? Your assistance would be greatly appreciated and our knowledge of this group furthered.

I should be pleased to hear from you regarding our common ancestry.

Yours sincerely,

The statement in the Richmond Genealogy, by J. D. Richmond, that John (1) Richmond of Taunton, Mass., was born in Ashton Keynes, Wiltshire, England, was merely a guess, and is without any foundation whatever in recorded fact. Mr. Henry J. Richmond of Little Compton, R. I., has spent a number of years in England in search for the birthplace and parentage of John (1) Richmond, without success. Mr. Richmond has published his English research in 3 volumes, entitled "Richmond Family Records," the 3rd volume being published in 1938.

However, several strands indicate that John (1) Richmond, emigrant to Taunton, may have been identical with a certain Lieut. John Richmond alias Shepherd or Shipward who was born not long after 1591 in Bandon Bridge, co. Cork, Ireland, son of a Capt. Richard Richmond alias Shepherd or Shipward and his wife, Katherine Beecher, daughter of Phane Beecher, one of the founders of the English settlement at Bandon Bridge. Phane (or Vane) Beecher was the son of Alderman Henry Beecher of London, England. These Richmonds were descended from an old Somersetshire family which emigrated to Ireland about 1588, after the close of the great Desmond rebellion in Munster.

George Richmond of this family who made several trading voyages to Richmond Island, in Saco Bay, Maine, around 1637-8, was a brother of Capt. Richard Richmond above. For some account of these voyages, see "The Trelawney Papers," in the publications of the Maine Historical Society.

Administration of George Richmond's estate was begun in Bandon Bridge, Ireland, Nov. 22, 1638, by his wife, Jane (Wolliday) Richmond, he having been cast away on the coast of Ireland on a return voyage from Richmond Island. In "The Trelawney Papers" John Winter, Trelawney's agent at Richmond Island, mentions the loss of this vessel.

It is now generally conceded that John (1) Richmond of Taunton, Mass., was undoubtedly the same John Richmond who figured in the Saco, Maine, court records in 1636-7 (New England Register, vol. 39, pp 362-4. Also in the Richmond Genealogy). At this time he seems to have been living and trading on the Theophilus Davies grant, the land of which ran a few miles along the shore of Saco Bay towards Richmond Island.

John (1) Richmond first came to Taunton in 1639, according to testimony of his son, John (2). If he was a member of the Bandon family, it seems reasonable to suppose that after the death of his Uncle George Richmond in 1638, he decided to sever his connection at Saco and removed to Taunton the next year. There is an interesting account of this Bandon Bridge Richmond family in vol. 1 of "Richmond Family Records," by Henry I. Richmond. Wills and other records are given for four generations.

Richmond Island was undoubtedly named for this Bandon family. The earliest mention of Richmond Island Mr. Henry I. Richmond has found is the following: "April 1627: lying sick in my bed on Richmans Island in New England" (Excerpt from the will of John Burges the elder, of Westley, co. Devon, Eng., Proved 1628. P. C. C. 45 Barrington).

Dear Mr. Williams:

I am the Genealogist of the Bay of Quinte Loyalist Association. As such I was privileged to review the genealogies which you had prepared on the Bowerman Family and on the Descendants of Ichabod Bowerman. I found them most interesting, seeing that I am a descendant of both families, the Bowermans and the Richmonds.

In case that you are interested, I am descended from Jane Bowerman, born 1737, daughter of Ichabod & first wife, who married Sylvester Richmond.

Their daughter, Lydia, born 1775, married John Burley (Burleigh), U. E., born 1768. Their children were:

1. Cyrus, born 6 July, 1793.
2. Joseph, born 16 June, 1796.
3. Sylvester, born 1 June, 1800.
4. Freeman J., born 5 Feb., 1802.
5. Porcas, born 13 June, 1804.
6. Ezekiel, born 31 May, 1806.
7. Arthur, born 13 March, 1808.
8. Ira, born 10 Nov., 1810.
9. Lydia, born 24 Nov., 1812.
10. Harriet, born 23 Nov., 1814.
11. Lydia Jane, born 27 Apr., 1817.

Cyrus, their eldest son, married Adah Randolph. Their second son, Sylvester, born 9 Nov., 1829, married Martha Taylor, born in 1833. Their only son, John Wesley, born 22 Jan., 1857, married Gertrude Nichala Percy. I am their second son.

I have done a great deal of research regarding these families. Much of it parallels yours. There is one family in which I have failed to discover anything, and it seems as if you have not found much, at least your books make no mention of it. I refer to the Mott women who married into the Bowerman and Richmond families. Have you discovered their ancestry?

I, too, have read, and copied, much from the Richmond Genealogy. You refer briefly to the ancestry as given by the author. I also assume, as I and many others have done, that there is a great deal of uncertainty regarding the immediate ancestors of the first John Richmond, as indeed the author appears to have been himself. He gives the feeling that he had fished throughout the British Isles for a suitable ancestor, and, finding none, in desperation latched on the Webb-Richmond who had fought on the wrong side of the fence in the Civil War in England. I have subscribed for several years to the Boston Transcript, and its successor the Hartford Times, in order to have the genealogical page. Several years ago someone placed a query as to the ancestry of the first John Richmond. A most interesting reply appeared in due time. In case you have not seen it, I am copying it below:

Dear Mr. Burling, -

Several years ago, while living in Markham, Ont., I received a helpful letter from you, (while tracing the Fisk and Bowerman families thro' my membership in the U.E.L. publication). You mentioned your daughter being an asst. librarian there, but we made our move to Orangeville just at that time so have been at a standstill due to being immersed in our family business.

Bowerman history has been quite well recorded it seems, and we tied ourselves quite easily to the Lincov branch.

My husband's descent is also through Ichabod, - eldest son of Thomas IV. Your descent is from Jane, child of Lydia Mott, the first wife - we descend from Israel, child of Jane Richmond, the second wife. (Would your ancestor Jane have married a brother of Jane Richmond, Ichabod's second wife?)

Israel m. Anna Derwilliger and their seventh child Judah had the following issue from his marriage to ——— Bull, of Lincov: Joseph, Benjamin, Elizabeth, Catherine Phoebe, Richard R., Mary, John who d.y., also John B. and several others. Richard R. married Phoebe Smith and settled on the Maritonen Is.

Now to the point of my letter. Since the "Richmond" is common to Israel's entire descendancy, can you tell me their history? My notes say - His second wife was Jane Richmond, whom he married in 1757. She was the daughter of Cyrus Richmond and granddaughter of Sylvester Richmond, who became a Quaker in England in the time of George Fox, and was sent to America, where a large tract of land was purchased for him in what is now Rhode Island, by his brother, ^{Edward Richmond} then Bishop of London."

In anticipation of a trip to England in the next several years, and wishing to visit the locale of the Richmonds, I contacted Society of Genealogists 37 Harrington Gardens, London, S.W. 7. Since Edward Richmond was of the clergy, I felt it would be an easy, and therefore fruitful, 'search'. I will quote here from their reply, -

"I should perhaps say that there does not appear to have been a Bishop of London called Edward Richmond, and in the circumstances you will of course need as much information about your emigrant ancestor and his place of origin here as your American records contain."

Where does that leave us? Can you help me with this problem? I am more than anxious now to solve this mystery.

Thank you so very much for your time, and your kind consideration now and in the past.

Sincerely,

Katherine E. Morrison,
(Mrs. H. Powerman Morrison)

I.

John Richmond, the first American ancestor, was born about 1594 at Ashton-Keynes, Wiltshire, England. He was a man of affairs and ample means when he came to the new world in 1635, and settled in Taunton, Mass., of which place he was one of the founders. He became a large land-owner and acquired considerable wealth. In the original purchase of Taunton, 1637, he owned six shares. He was absent from Taunton a great deal of the time, being recorded in Newport and elsewhere in Rhode Island. It is known that he was in Rhode Island in 1655 and was a commissioner from Newport at the court of commissioners held at Portsmouth, R. I., in 1656.

In a manuscript of the Rev. Hugh Richmond a tradition is recorded that the John Richmond of Ashton-Keynes, who shot his brother Henry Richmond, came to America in 1635 and engaged in business. Joshua Bailey Richmond, in his work, "The Richmond Family 1598-1896, and Pre-American Ancestors, 1040-1594," refers to this tradition and says in connection with it that nothing is definitely known concerning the American John Richmond between the years 1643 and 1655. He thinks that this John Richmond may have been the John Richmond who came to Saco, Me., in 1635 and that he may have returned to England and engaged in the Civil War. He was called Colonel, which circumstances might also tend to identify him with the John Richmond of the Civil War.

He died in Taunton, March 20, 1664.

He was married in England, although no record of his marriage has been found as yet.

Issue:—

1. John Richmond b. 1627 in Ashton-Keynes, Wiltshire, England. He was brought to this country by his father in 1635 and became prominent in town affairs in Taunton, Mass., where he maintained his residence during his entire life. He was a member of the town council 1675-6 and 1690. He was also a constable, commissioner, and surveyor, and for more than half a century was a member of every important committee and commission appointed to deal with the business of the town and colony. He was especially interested in many purchases of land from the Indians in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. It is supposed (but not certainly known) that he had two wives, the first of whom does not appear of record.

Died October 7, 1715, at Taunton.

Married (2d) Abigail Rogers, daughter of John Rogers of Duxbury, Mass. She was born in 1641 and died Aug 1, 1727.

2. Edward Richmond of Newport, R.I., b. about 1632 d. November 1696. He was an incorporator of Little Compton, R.I., 1674; general solicitor, 1657-69-70-2; attorney-general, 1677-8-9-80; deputy to the general court 1678-9, and a lieutenant and captain of the militia. m. 1st Abigail Davis, daughter of James Davis; 2d, Amy Bull, daughter of Henry and Elizabeth Bull.
3. Sarah Richmond b. about 1638 d 1691 m 1st, Edward Rew, 2d, James Walker, 3d, Nicholas Stoughton.
4. Mary Richmond b 1639, d 1715 m. William Paul of Berkeley R.I.

They were probably married in the late 1820's or 1830.

Would like to know if they were English immigrants. (The Richmond great-great-great grandparents)

Dear Mr. Hurleigh:

Thank you for responding to my inquiry about Richmonds.

Mother said her grandfather had a sister, or aunt named Jane. She married a Kottenburg, and lived in Minnesota. He had a brother, Robert, a physician at Richmond, Virginia.

The only documented birthdate is for my great-grand father.

The other birthdates were taken from a census year, - and since I do not know the month of birth, they may be off one year. They were all born in Upper Canada. The family may not have been English. In fact, they may have come from New York. I say this because of the names of "Cicero" and "Seneca." There is also an island named Richmond in the eastern part of that state.

My John Richmond died in Minnesota. Have not obtained the date of his death. (I am wondering if his wife may have died in Canada, or shortly after they came to this country. They went to Illinois, before setting up their Minnesota residence.)

Thank you for informing me about the Richmond genealogy. Shall see if our Historical Society can get it on loan.

Shall write to you again, if there is a connection established.

Dear Mr. Burleigh,

Your most welcome letter received and am so thankful to be able to obtain such valuable material. It must be very gratifying to you to have achieved so much in your life time.

I am afraid I didn't write my other letter too plain. I have information on the Mc Fall (McFaul) line and only need my direct Cunningham line and the line leading from it.

It just sounds wonderful about the article on Hannah Cunningham's mother.

I suggested to my husband, I send you fifteen dollars for the half I needed; but he said we should write to you, first, and see if it would be acceptable.

I thank you for your concern.

Dear Sir,

I have been given your name as a person very well versed in the history of Ontario.

I am trying to trace the parents and family of an ancestor of mine; and was hoping you will be able to help me.

Her name is Hannah Cunningham born 1788 - died in Prince Edward Co 26 Nov. 1852. She married a Daniel McFaul and had 12 children.

Is there anything known of her family or the origin of the Cunninghams?

Here in the Los Angeles Library we have only very sketchy data of Canada and that is mostly of the French genealogies.

I will appreciate any help or suggestions you may give.

Beamish Family.

RICHMOND.

Usually recognized as an Irish family, they only went to Ireland (Co. Cork) at the end of the 16th century under the Munster Settlement. They settled on lands granted to Phane Becher, son of Alderman Henry Becher, of London, it is believed by the writer that they went to Ireland from Suffolk. Particularly interesting entries appear in Brundish (Suffolk) Parish Register, 1574-84, and an Ipswich marriage exists (Francis Beamish, widower, and Katherine Rivett). Wanted information about Beamish movements in the last quarter of 17th century — C. T. M. Beamish, 6 Binkham Hill, Yelverton, S. Devon.

(Holliday) Richmond, he having been cast away on the coast of Ireland on a return voyage from Richmond Island. In "The Trelawney Papers" John Winter, Tre-lawney's agent at Richmond Island, mentions the loss of this vessel.

It is now generally conceded that John (1) Richmond of Taunton, Mass., was undoubtedly the same John Richmond who figured in the Saco, Maine, court records in 1636-7. (New Eng. Register, vol. 39, pp 362-4. Also in the Richmond Geneal.). At this time he seems to have been living and trading on the Theophilus Davies grant, the land of which ran a few miles along the shore of Saco Bay towards Richmond Island.

John (1) Richmond first came to Taunton in 1639, according to testimony of his son, John (2). If he was a member of the Bandon family, it seems reasonable to suppose that after the death of his Uncle George Richmond in 1638, he decided to sever his connection at Saco and removed to Taunton the next year. There is an interesting account of this Bandon Bridge Richmond family in vol. 1 of "Richmond Family Records," by Mr. Henry D. Richmond. Wills and other records are given for four generations.

Richmond Island was undoubtedly named for this Bandon family. The earliest mention of Richmond Island Mr. Henry D. Richmond has found is the following: "April 1627: lying sick in my bed on Richmasss Island in New England..." (Extract from the will of John Burges, the elder, of Westley, co. Devon., Eng. Proved 1628. P. C. C. 45 Barrington).

Data on Adam Mott, emigrant, asked; two adult Adam Motts emigrated to the colonies; they may have been uncle and nephew John Mott came in the "Defence" from Cambridgeshire to Boston in 1635. See Hotten's Lists, p. 99: "Adam Mott, 39 yrs, wif. Sarah Mott, 31; John 14; Adam, 12; Jonathan, 9; Elizabeth, 6; Mary, 4." This Adam, aged 39, was a tailor; first wife, Sarah, d. in Eng; 2nd wif. the widow Sarah Lott. The 4 yr. old Mary of the ship list was prob. her dau. Mary Lott. Sarah (2nd wife) bore Adam several children, including Nathaniel, Jacob, Eleazer, & Gershom, who mar. Rebecca (—) & d. in R.I. in 1698. This family lived in Roxbury & Hingham, Mass; by 1641 Adam was made a freeman of Portsmouth, R.I., where he d. in 1661. His father, John Mott, had arrived in Plymouth by 1639, & Adam was required to pay toward the old man's support.

A younger Adam Mott came from Essex (adjoining Cambridgeshire), Eng. in May 1638 (Hotten's Lists, p. 194-5); he was called "servant" on the ship list. Located on L.I. A-562 - W.E.S. March 14, 1942 Davis-Richmond.

This query repeats the old error of parentage of Abigail Davis. She was not the dau. of James Davis but of William Davis who d. 1643-4 and of his second wife, Mary —; William was a locksmith in Boston; his widow mar. second, before 1644, John Cowdall of Boston and rem. to R.I.

Daughter Abigail had been engaged to Edward Richmond but under pressure of mother and step-father, she mar. Richard Ursell, about spring of 1656. This resulted in a series of court actions extending over two years, some brought by Edward Richmond and some by Abigail herself. On July 5, 1657 the Court annulled this marriage. Edward Richmond secured a judgement of six pounds and costs for damages from John Cowdall and Richard Ursell June 30, 1657.

Edward and Abigail's intentions of marriage immediately after the annulment was blocked by objection of a citizen but in June 1658 Edward and Abigail were fined by Court of Trials for having a child and were married then by the same court.

The Richmond Richmond

The R from has its origin in Brittany, France. The name is derived from a French word rich & monde, & is first given in early Eng. hist. as Richmond. Later as Richemont & Richemont, & finally as Richmond. The form name Richmond may still be found in France.

It is extremely diff. to find ancestors from previous to founding of Huald's Coll. by Rich III in 1487, so much so traditions engraved on heart.

The credit for having our Eng. ancestors is mostly due to a nephew of the compiler Hen. I.R. Jr. who has spent much time in this country & in Eng. examining old wills & records to enable the R's. to "read their title clear" to ancestors who arrived by a route of 1st Long or Haringfield.

The line of Eng. ancestors given is also that of a John Rogers & other Wiltshire R's. The former for 5 gens bears the alias / Will, first assumed by Wm R. about 1480 when he & Alice d. h.

of the Hall of Dunsford Castle.

Francis Channing, uncle of Wm. Madison Channing, who desc from a R. of Wills, composed a series of letters of similar nature. R. & W. have corresponded since there is no discrepancy. He ~~states~~ ^{that we} descend through Rodd, son of Roddus de Exon. while Gen Plantagenet-Hawes in his Hist. of 'Yorkshire' states that we descend from Adam, ... of Roddus de Exon. claiming that he is R. & W. & W.

Wm. Madison Channing, wrote of Col. Jos. R. - with whose name might find a fragment of a long line; he came of a very ancient Wills family, which he respected above all families - he could; he could prove descent from Edward I., & his first ancestor, Roddus de Exon, was by Wm. the Conqueror. He was Hastings field - 'his own galleon', Col
Wills said to say, 'while the Chancellors were here long'.

Roddus de Exon owned lands by - Exon - Yorks, & tradition informs us that the R. was a relative of John Roper, but no positive proof of the statement has been found.

Alan Rufus was a kinsman of a Cong., & was granted lands in Yorks. He built Richmond Castle & was a first Duke of R*

Tradition from many sources informs us that Jno
R was born in Ashton-Keynes. The Rev. J. C. R. claims that he was allowed to look the old church records at Ashton-Keynes Wilts, to his lodgings, as a special favor, & asserts positively that he found the date of baptism of Jno R. in 1597.

Jno Savage in his Gen. Dict., states: "Family tradition tells this Jno for Ashton-Keynes, a parish of Wilts, four & one half miles W from Cricklade, where he was bapt. in 1597.
He died Mar. 20, 1664 age 70; therefore his birth occurred in 1594.

The compiler cannot state positively whether Ashton-Keynes, Radborne or Christchurch Tisford is the place of nativity of Jno R, but it seems more than probable that the latter is correct. He was born in a Co of Wilts, & there is no doubt that a Wilts R descended from the Duke of Rutland, who came from Brittany, & led the Cong. †

The title master is now held by the senior family. Our ancestor was Lord of Mann & Constable of R. Castle. But no claim can be established to a name of descent from R. The complete record of descent is written in a descent book in a Richmond Book comes from an being a descent desc. of King Henry I, as claimed by John R. Webb from kinship & descent. Refers to first descent of R, or for better information as regards some descent family.

† The following is a letter of W. R. to W. R., dated in Providence Dec. 21, 1864, may be of interest, & shows how traditions have been passed down in a family. I have thought best to give you this record of a family hist. which I now, as before, mention in my hand - not often in connection to write it will be kept for history. - Oct. 21, 1864, our forefathers from Port Henry, Scotland - Menemay River, England, an officer in King Henry's Army. On a foreland off Oct. was fought a great battle of Haverly, in which a French King Henry - half the army was killed, & England was subdued.

to the King. Our ancestor settled on land in York given him by King, etc. At a subsequent period a younger branch of this family settled in Wiltshire, where traces of them for many generations are still found in cemetery & parish records. John R. was born at a Manor of Ashton - Keynes, & came to America in his own ship
 "Edwin" etc etc

Dear Mary, my grandfather was one of those who lived in a small house, on a little piece of land, in Cromwell, an English town. The place was built under the reign of Henry VIII. It was a small place, & Cromwell was the first to build it. It was the first for all the little houses.

* John R. of Amesbury, father of Mr. Mary Brewster in 1668 & had 3 sons & 2 daughters. His father also an recorded in Amesbury. His father was according to the letter of O. Brewster quoted above a son of a friend of John R. of Amesbury. It is likely that John R. was about 41 yrs when he left Eng. without leave ample time for a previous marriage in Eng. & would find the Brewster family to claim the name.

+ Captain Edward Richmond² (John¹) was born about 1632 and probably before his father came to America. He married, first, Abigail, daughter of James Davis, and second, Amy Bull, daughter of Governor Henry and Elizabeth Bull. He died Nov., 1696.

Children by his first wife

+ 17 Abigail³ born 1656.

+ 18 Edward³ born 1658.

+ 19 John³ born about 1660.

+ 20 Elizabeth³ born Dec. 6, 1666.

+ 21 Mary³ born 1668

+ 22 Esther³ born 1669

+ 23 Sylvester³ born 1672, baptized at Little Compton, R.I., Nov. 3, 1700.
- 24 Sarah³ d. Nov. 20, 1724.

Children by second wife

+ 25 Henry³ born at Little Compton, R.I.

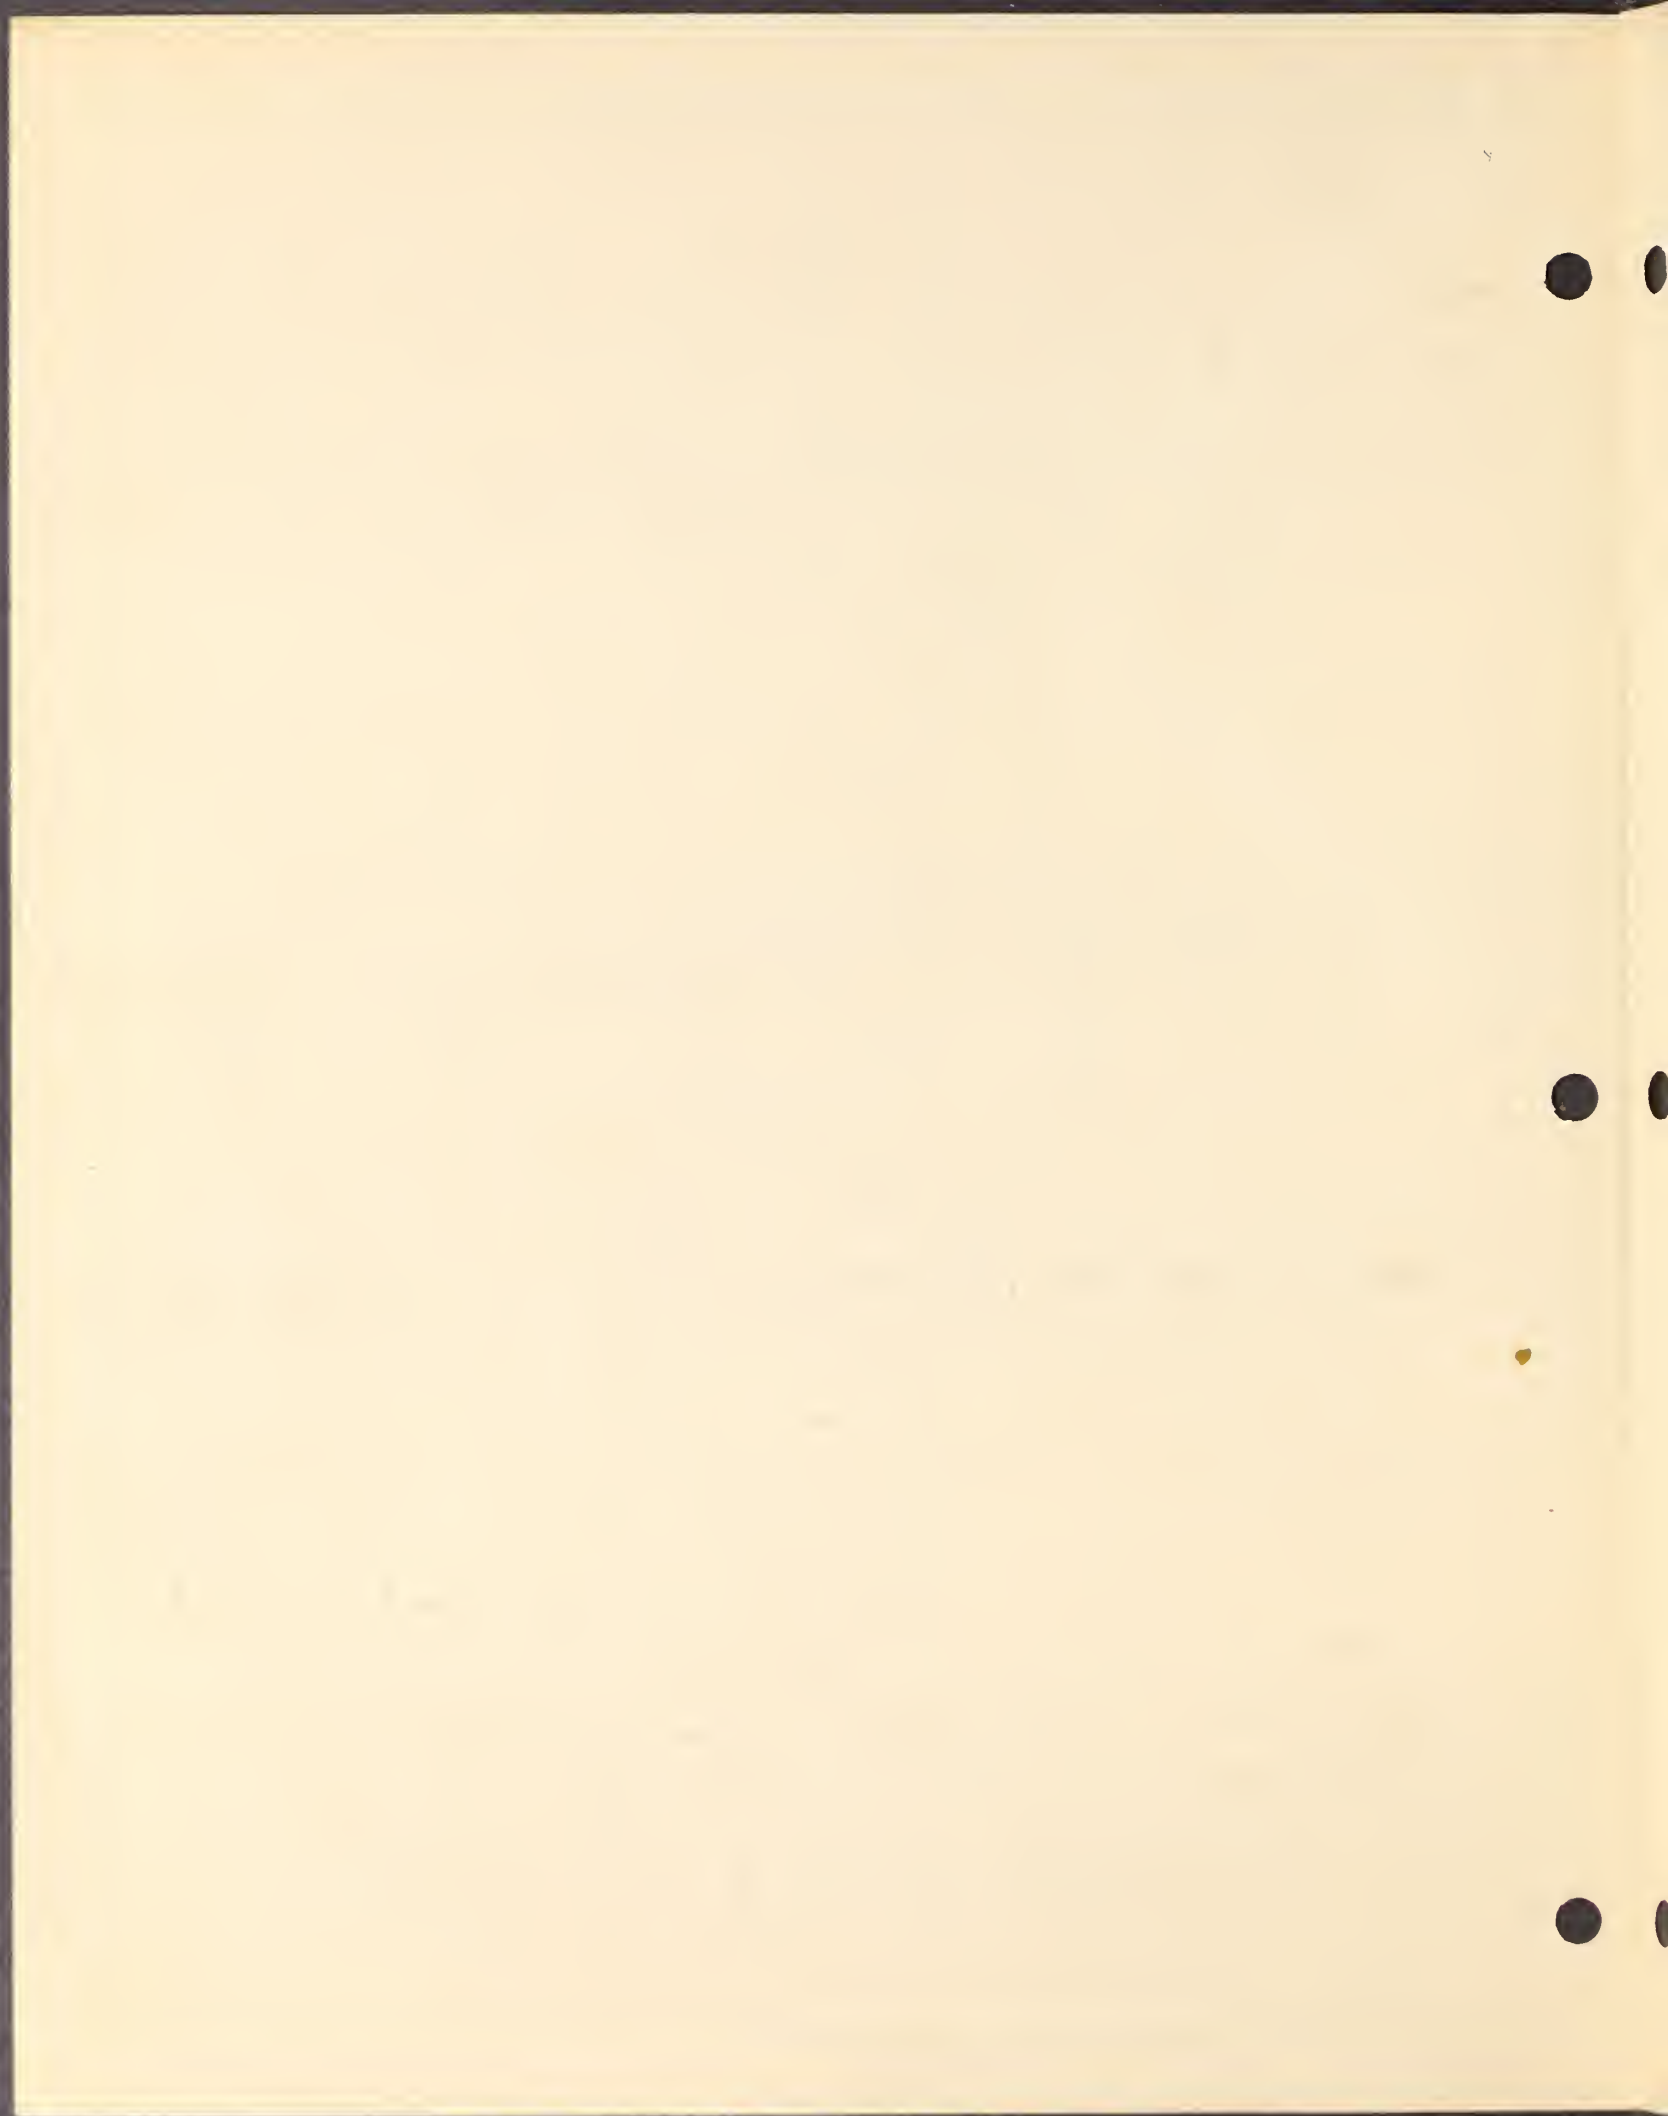

+ 26 Ann³ born at Little Compton, R.I.

The order of births is not known but it is believed that the above is very nearly, if not accurately correct.

He and his wife, Amy, joined in a deed Aug. 20, 1685.

He conveyed Feb. 16, 1691-2 to Henry Bull, his "father-in-law" and "grandfather of my two youngest children" certain land in trust for them and "my now wife Amy" referring in ~~the~~ to a deed to his son Edward made May 20, 1686.

The inventory of his estate was filed Dec. 8, 1696, and on the twentieth of the same month his estate was divided among Edward the eldest son; son John, for himself and his sister Abigail Remington; William Palmer, John Palmer, Sylvester Richmond, Sarah Richmond and Thomas Burdges (The two Palmers and Burdges [Burgers] were husbands of his daughters).

The executors of Henry Bull (who died Jan 22 1693-4), settled an account Mar. 2, 1709, in which they reported payment of Henry and Ann Richmond's legacy of £60.

On May 20 1657, Abigail Davis petitioned the Assembly, alleging that her stepfather John Cowdall and her mother had forced her into a marriage with Richard Ussell, and later in the same year the Assembly declared that ~~the~~ marriage was unlawful and that she was free to marry Edward Richmond, whom she declared in her petition to be her choice (See Col. Records Vol I P 359).

When old Portsmouth was divided and Newport organized, Portsmouth was reorganized and James Davis (Davis) signed (by his mark) April 30 1639, forming "the body politick" of Portsmouth; and in the list of the inhabitants of Aquednic Island (who had become such by consent of the government) dated Sept 1, 1640, James Davis's name appears; it does not appear again, and as there was no other of the name (save, possibly Nicholas, who lived until 1671) it would seem that he was the father of Abigail Davis, and at the time Abigail married Edward Richmond, he had died and his widow had married John Cowdall.

1661, Sept 9 — He had a share in Misquamicut (Westerly) lands appointed to him.

1663, Dec 14 — He had a legacy of forty acres, and wearing apparel, from the will of his father John Richmond of Taunton.

1667-69-70-72 General Solicitor.

1676, Aug 6 —

19 John Richmond³ (Edward² John¹) was born in Newport, R.I., about 1660. He married Elizabeth ——. He died in 1740.

- + 122 Priscilla⁴ married Joseph Reynolds.

He and his wife, Elizabeth conveyed land on Nov. 4, 1727.

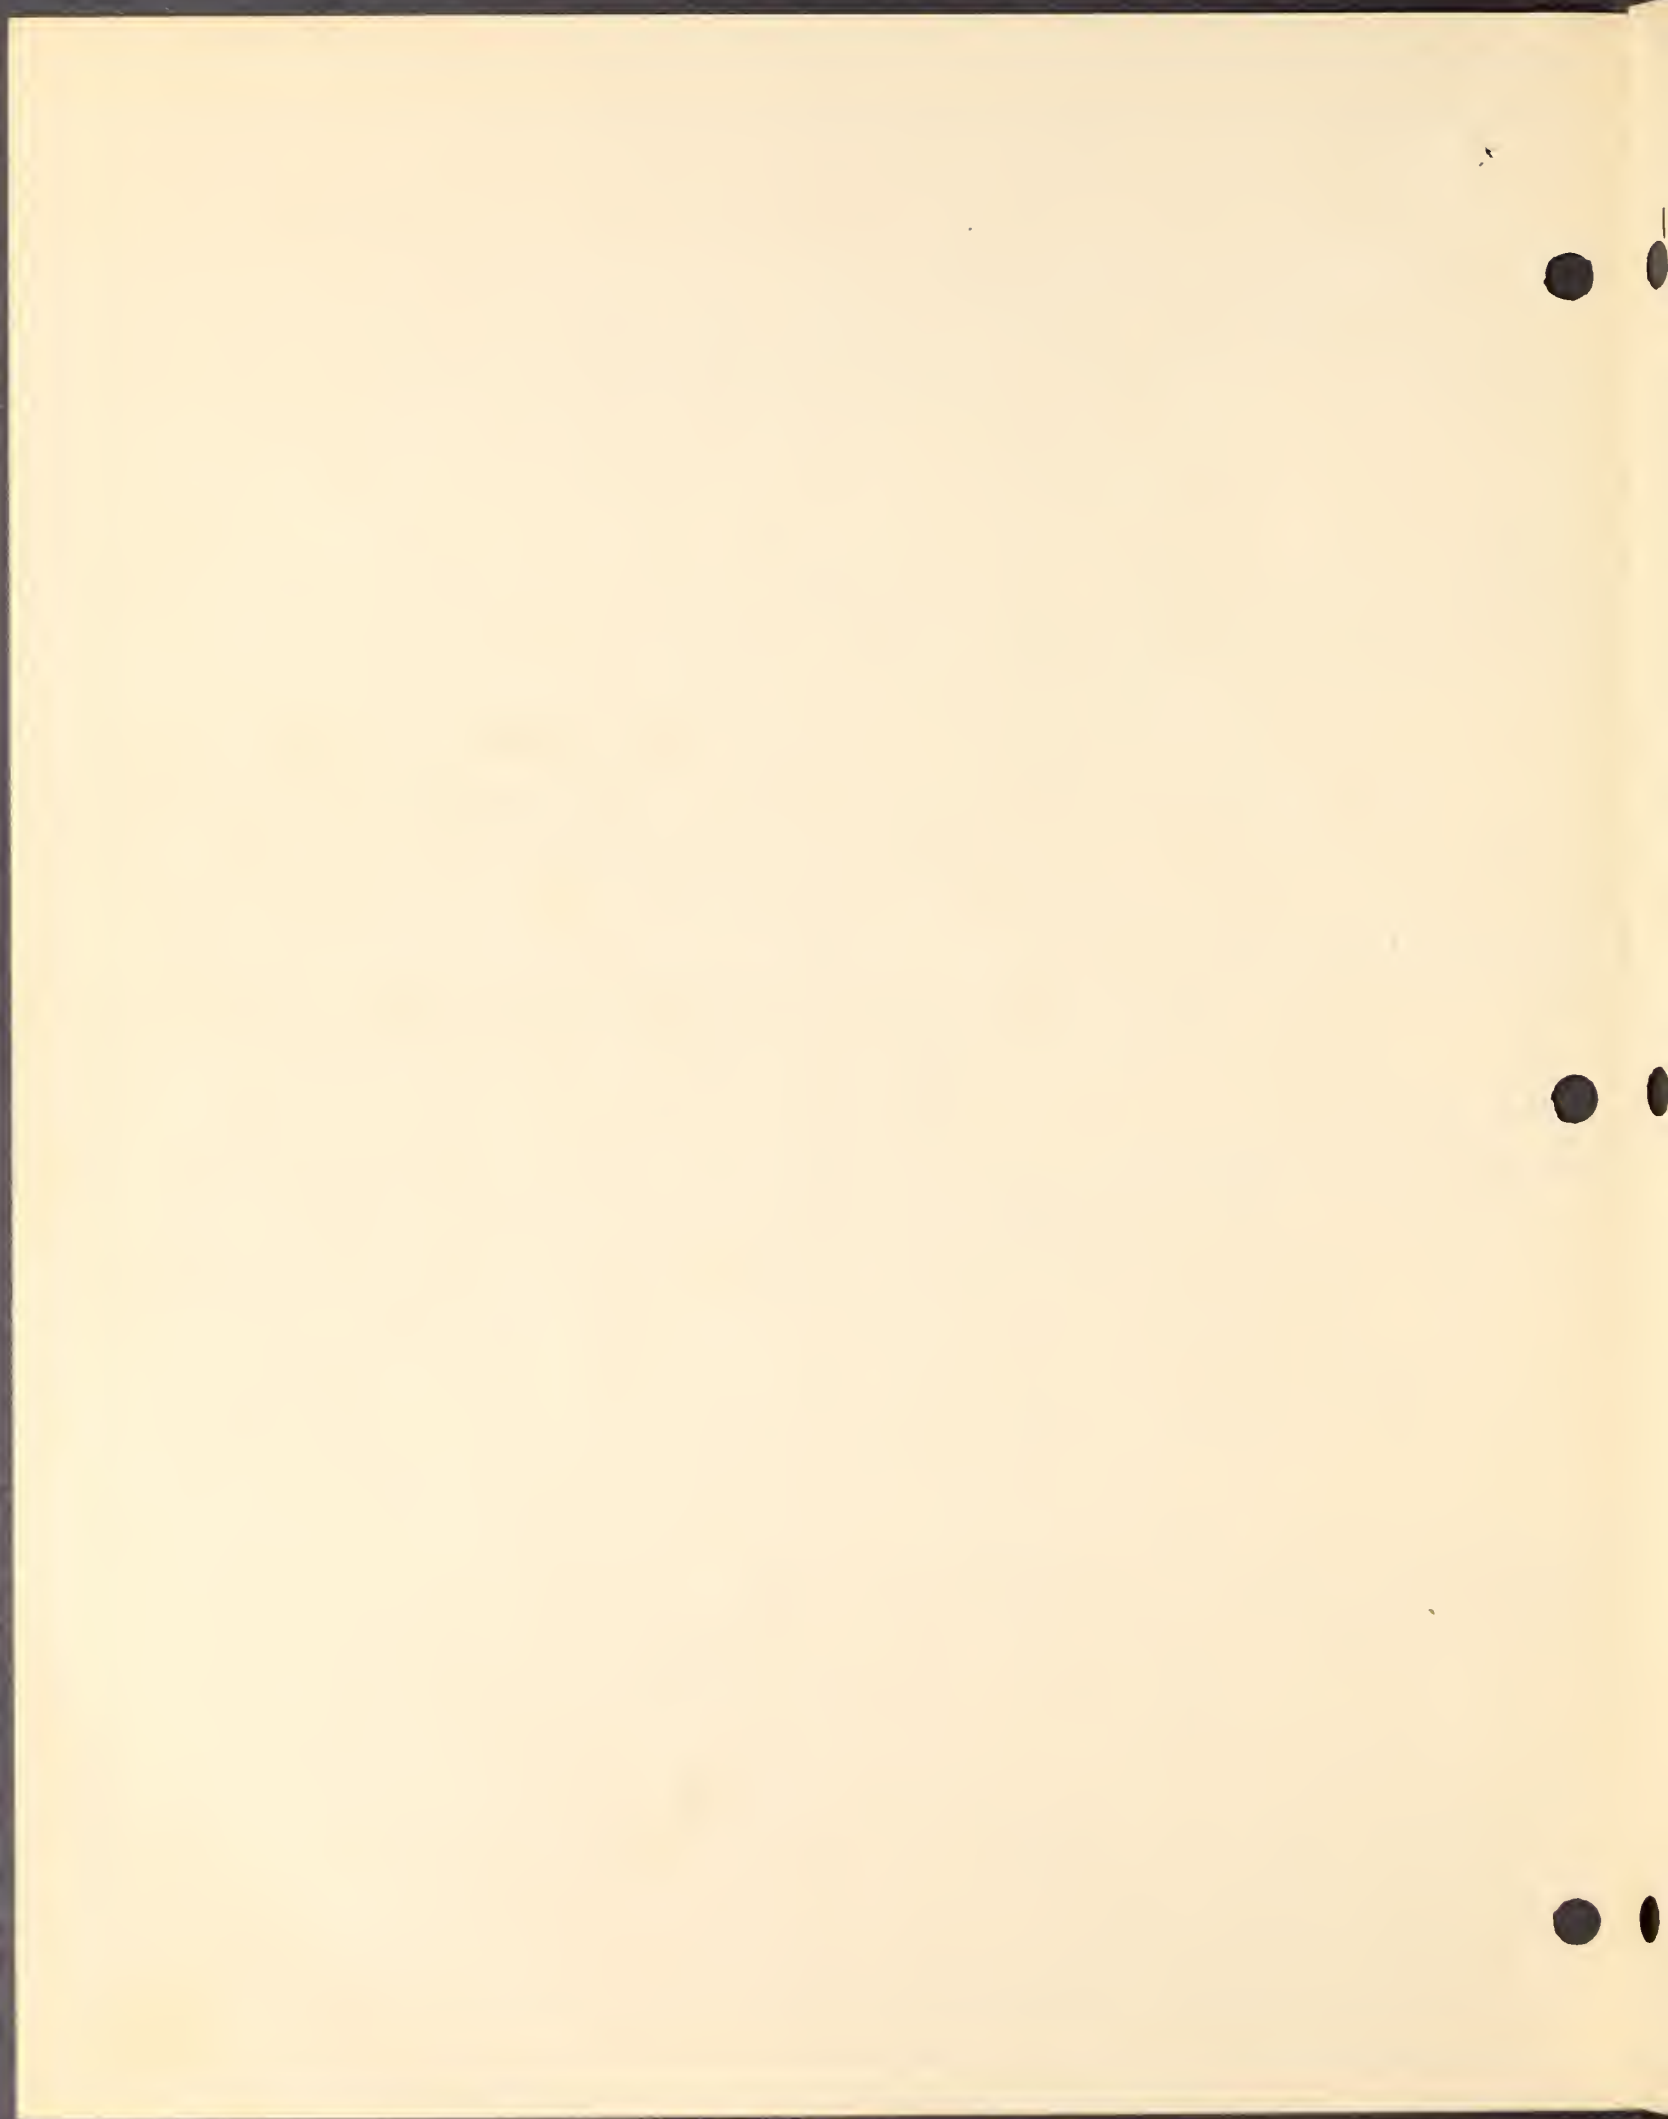

His will, dated Feb. 24, 1739-40, proved Jul. 28, 1740 mentions his wife Elizabeth; his son Stephen; his son Cyrus of Stonington; his daughters, Rebecca Worden, Sarah Lawton, Esther Tracy of Preston, Conn., Ann Hoxsie and Content Davis; his granddaughter Ruth Reynolds, and his grandsons Richmond Reynolds and Joseph Reynolds children of his daughter Priscilla; his daughter Abigail Burdick's five children, Simeon, Abigail, Edmund, Jonathan and Elizabeth; and his daughter Elizabeth Hull's three children Sarah, Lurstrams and Hannah.

John Richmond solemnized marriages in Westerly in 1732; was admitted freeman in May 1, 1716; and was Deputy for Westerly in 1729.

He was a Quaker and was dissatisfied with the proceedings of the Revolutionary Party, sympathizing with the mother country. He was imprisoned at Poughkeepsie — whether for religious scruples or political offences is not known.

TAMWORTH COUPLE CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Tamworth. — On Saturday afternoon and evening, January 3, 1959, over 60 people called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Richmond on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary.

Many good wishes and beautiful gifts were received by the bride and groom of 50 years ago.

J. R. Sproule proposed a toast to his father-in-law and after everyone present drank of their health Mr. Richmond replied briefly.

After some brief remarks by Mr. Sproule, Earl Stratton, on behalf of the family, presented them with a transistor radio set. A beautiful guest book was presented by the grandchildren.

Letters of congratulations were received from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and from Hon. Sydney Smith, the Secretary of State for External Affairs, and from the Provincial Secretary. Parliament Buildings, Toronto. Telephone calls were received from friends in Brampton, Rochester, N.Y., Kingston and Camden East, as well as several from this vicinity.

During the day their two daughters, Mrs. J. R. Sproule (Marion), of Belleville, and Mrs. Earl Stratton (Gertie), of Corbyville, presided and were assisted with the serving by the grandchildren, Lynda and Billy Sproule, Billy and Douglas Richmond, and Sandra Stratton.

Out-of-town guests were from Kingston, Switzerville, Napanee, Shannonville, Belleville, Erinsville, and Arborfield, Sask. A beautiful three-tier wedding cake, flanked with tall candles, adorned the dining table and baskets of yellow and white 'mums which had been received by friends, gave the room a festive look.

The bride of 50 years was gowned in a street-length dress of navy blue, trimmed with rose and she wore a corsage of bronze baby 'mums, the gift of the groom.

On January 6, 1909, William Gordon Richmond and Naomi Ruth Pringle drove from the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will-ett Pringle, at West Plain, to the parsonage at Tamworth with a beautiful black horse and a cutter. There was no snow but it was cold and everything was a sheet of ice so they slithered and slid to reach the parsonage, where Rev. S. F. Dixon, a special friend of the groom-to-be, performed the wedding ceremony after which tea and Christmas cake were served by Mrs. Dixon. They were accompanied by the bride's brother, John C. Pringle, and Miss Maggie Main. After the ceremony the United Church bells were pealed out long and loud by one who happened to see the man who entered the parsonage.

They drove to the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Young, where they were roused about midnight by a group of young people from West Plain who were bent on a charivari. They had only abated the noise and gone home when the second group arrived from Roblin. Both groups were armed with shotguns, tin pans and horns. After each group were given money for treats, they left.

After visiting several places, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond started house-keeping in the home where the groom had been living a bachelor's life for some time.

At that time a car was not known in the district, so one can see the vast advancement this country has made in the past 50 years.

Of this marriage seven children were born. Three sons have died. The youngest son, Flt.-Sgt. Reggie Richmond, gave his life for his country. Two sons and two daughters remain. They are Orval Richmond, of Rochester, N.Y., who with his wife and three daughters spent the Christmas week-end with his parents, but were unable to return for the anniversary; Mrs. J. R. Sproule, of Belleville; Eldon Richmond, of Tamworth, and Mrs. Earl Stratton, of Corbyville, who with their families planned and carried out the activities of the 50th anniversary for the bride and groom of long ago.
